

To Our Community Partners:

Please review the College's 7 values statements below.

From your perspective what are the most important of these values and what are the least important.

Please rank from most important (1) to least important (7).

Kapi'olani Community College values...

Foundational values that permeate all aspects/activities/issues (and that are therefore unranked) – without these, we should not be operating:

Honesty, integrity, and clarity in professional relationships.

Aloha for Hawai'i, and its diverse peoples, cultures, languages, and environments.

Rank-able values according to the mission of higher education:

Service and attention to the needs of our diverse students and their experiences, contributions, expectations, and dreams. 1

Imagination and innovation in teaching, curriculum development, program planning and problem-solving resulting in high quality, active, ongoing learning for everyone. 2
(I believe these are inextricably linked, so have ranked them as one.)

Collaboration and partnerships in working for the social, economic, and environmental betterment of the communities we serve. 3

Respect and appreciation for our faculty, staff and administration, in recognition of their hard work and achievements. 4
